Print n' Play

You might think you know your friends well, but do you know what hot takes your friends might have about you? In this game, players select the card that most describes the person in the hot seat. This party game can be played with close friends, but also works as a get-to-know-you game with the mild deck.

Contains: 172 Cards (84 mild, 88 spicy), 1 box lid, 1 box base

Card Printing Instructions:

1. Print out pages 5-34 double sided, so that each page has the card content on one side and the card backs on another side.
2. After printing, cut the cards out along the black lines.

Box Printing Instructions:

1. Print out pages 3-4 on separate pages of cardstock
2. Cut out the two shapes on the dark pink lines, and fold along the blue lines into the shape of a box
3. Glue the white flaps to the sides of the box

Instructions

1. Pick a deck to play with; you can choose either the 'Mild' deck for family-friendly humor/get-to-know-you settings, or the 'Spicy' deck if you want to up the heat with your friends! You may also choose to shuffle the decks together.
2. Deal 7 cards to each player.
3. Pick one player to be in the hot seat (the judge for this round).
4. All other players pick a card from their hand that they think best suits the judge and places it face down in a pile in front of the judge.
5. The judge reads all of the played cards out loud and picks the one they believe suits them best. The judge then has to explain why they picked that card.
6. Other players have a chance to jump in and argue for why they think the card they played is a better fit.
7. After the discussion phase, the judge may change their chosen card. The person who played that card gets a point. Each player picks up a new card to replace it. Everyone should have 7 cards in their hand.
8. The person to the right of the judge becomes the judge for the next round. Continue playing until one person has 5 points (or as long as many points as you want).
