PUZZLES

as games

what makes puzzles fun?

well-played
alter rules to keep game fun

- Games, winning
- Puzzle, goal
- Toy, no goal
- Story, no interaction

puzzles are solitary (unlike games)

two main skills:
ingenuity + patience

good puzzles help the plot objects can be used in usual or unusual ways the most satisfying puzzles involve people riddles are not satisfying (if they don't get it, sol) puzzles can come from recognizing a condition puzzle circumstances should fit the world fail states should be clear in some way (poss. to not restart) put yourself in the player's shoes!

steer the player toward the right answer break story into obstacles to sub-goals (ultimately to reach big goal)
